Making flowed content
on the page

Sometimes it is required to expand content from one page to another. This guide will show how to set flowed content for page so expanded content could flow to second page.

Step 1. Template

Third page of this template has Multiline text fields (NextLevelManagerFeedback, HRFeedback and HRNotesToEmployee) which will change their size in runtime to fit content inside them (Expand height to fit property).

Step 2. Setting flowed content to page

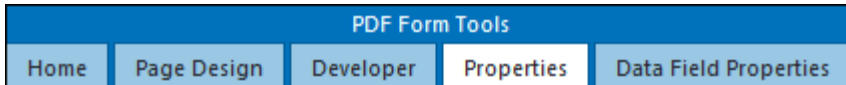

NOTE:

- Before switching content to “Flowed” from “Positioned” it is required to check structure of your template: all fields will be placed as much as possible close to each other, that’s why if you wish to set flowed content, but some of fields must be separated, it is required to limit area of flowed content using subform or place inside area with flowed content subform with positioned content.
- In order to make content flow to next page, you need to set content of the page to “Flowed”.

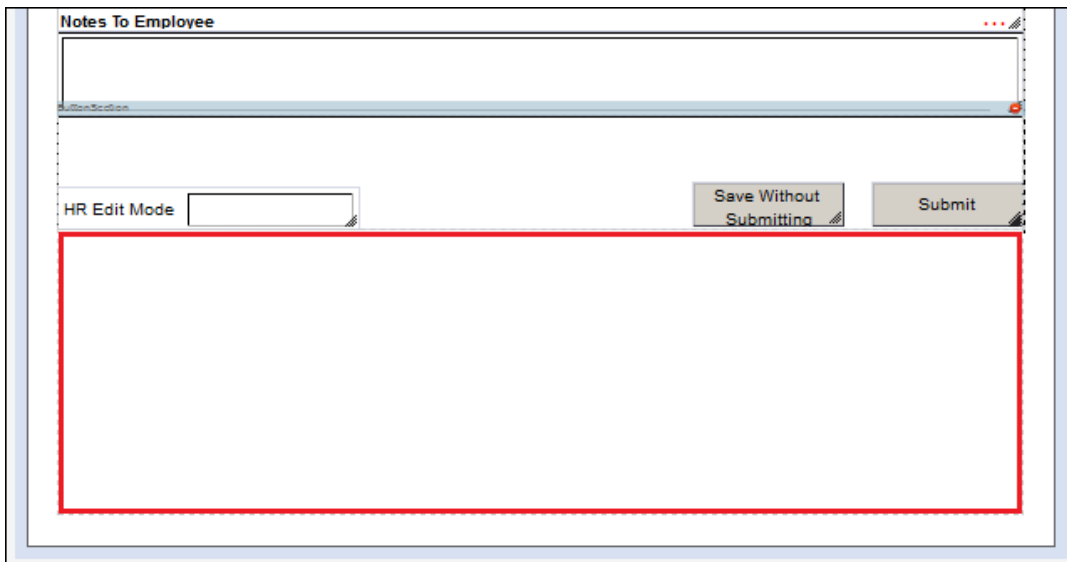

Before setting flowed content to the page, need to place all other controls inside subforms, so position of controls won't change after changing content layout. In this example all fields and controls are already put in their subforms.

Proceed with following steps to change layout of the page:

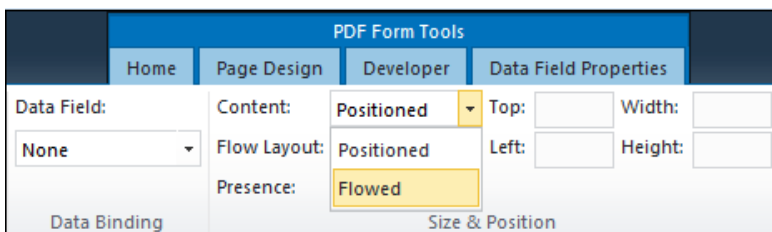

1. Select any subform on this page (ButtonSection, HRApprovalSection, etc);
2. Make sure that "PDF Form Tools" ribbon is opened on "Properties" tab;

3. Click on the free space at the bottom of the page;

4. Change in "Size & Position" section "Content" to "Flowed"

Step 3. Save template and deploy

Step 4. Runtime

Create new form from deployed template and try to add large text to any of those multiline text fields (NextLevelManagerFeedback, HRFeedback and HRNotesToEmployee)
